

3,000 SPIES IN U. S. PAID BY TEUTONS, GORICAR SAYS

Charges Boy-Ed, Von Papen and Von Nuber Knew of All Bomb Plots Here.

AMERICANS "DOGS" IN EMBASSY LISTS

Huge Sums Spent Over Country to Burn and Destroy Plants and Aid Propaganda.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 13.—"The Providence Journal" will say tomorrow:

In a vigorous reply to the denials of the Austrian Embassy and several Austro-Hungarian consuls that they had been fomenting trouble in munitions plants and constantly intriguing with spies and secret agents, Dr. Joseph Goricar made the following statement last night:

"Did anybody expect that these men were going to acknowledge the fact? I can simply give my word of honor that what I have said is the truth and that the facts are going to be proved to the satisfaction of the American people."

"I will state further that no act of violence, whether it be a fire in a munitions factory, the explosion of a bomb on board a ship or the establishment of a fraudulent passport office, springs from the demented mind of any single individual. Every act is planned in advance, men who can be trusted to go through with such criminal performances are selected in advance and the whole scheme is worked through the system. Individuals are simply carrying out orders that they get from above."

"My fifteen years' experience in the foreign service of Austria-Hungary has given me exact knowledge of this spy system, which is directed by the German Embassy through Captain Foy-Ed and Captain von Papen, acting directly with Consul General von Nuber in New York. These three men have full and complete knowledge of every move made by every German and Austrian spy in the United States. In spite of their assertions that they are innocent of any wrong doing or of any knowledge of the burning of munitions plants or of wrecking of ships they are in immediate touch with every transaction."

"Every central empire spy operating in this country to-day is officially listed."

ed in the offices of these men, and their records are kept in card index form. There are, I should judge from personal knowledge, about three thousand of these men in the United States to-day, and every one of them will do exactly what he is ordered to do, and consider himself, as in fact he really is, a soldier under the direct instruction of his military superiors.

"These men have to keep in touch with the military and naval attaches of either the German or Austrian embassy or else with the consuls I have named already in my previous statement, and from them they secure all maps, charts, sailing lists of boats and the precise location of factories where ammunition is being manufactured."

Americans Called "Beasts."

"Do the American people think that Captain von Papen's somewhat innocuous statement about Americans in his letter discovered on Archibald is an isolated expression of opinion? The truth is that since the beginning of the war, in every German and Austrian consulate in this country and in both embassies, Americans have been 'dogs' and 'pigs' and 'beasts' whenever reference has been made to them. The people of this country do not understand the contempt with which these men view them and their almost entire freedom from restraint in every illicit act they are performing."

"No passport fraud agent in New York or Cleveland or Philadelphia, and these three cities are full of them, could live and do business a day without the sanction and friendly assistance of the Austrian and German officials."

"When the truth is known concerning the actual sums of money that have been spent in this country for the purchase of newspapers, the subsidizing of college professors, the destruction of munitions plants, the hiring of halls, the payment of travelling expenses for hundreds of men who are constantly moving about the country and for many other purposes, the amount will stagger the imagination."

With reference to the charges made by the Austro-Hungarian Embassy in Washington yesterday that Dr. Goricar is a Russian spy and that he used his position as consul to further Slav interests against those of Austria-Hungary Dr. Goricar said:

"The declaration of the embassy is utterly ridiculous and can be proved so to the satisfaction of every thinking man."

"I desire to call attention to the fact that if I had been a traitor to my country, my government gave me a splendid opportunity to present to Russia the most vital secrets of its activities two days prior to the declaration of war, when I was sent from Warsaw by the Consul General to Vienna with secret dispatches of the utmost importance and carried them in my pocket until my arrival in Vienna on the night of the 27th, when I was received in the Foreign Office by Count Foy-Ed, the acting Minister of Foreign Affairs."

"The embassy declares that I left my post in Berlin without permission. This is an absolute falsehood. When I went to Rome I was on leave of absence. The embassy also claims that I feared dismissal and therefore resigned in order to prevent it. That is also untrue."

"Since my return to this country I have never sought to disguise the fact that I have been working and still am working for Slavic unity. The Austrian Embassy has known very well from the first day of my return to America that I came back here for this specific work and I am not ashamed of it."

"On the other hand, however, the Aus-

FOUND WITH DYNAMITE ON LINER.

Abraham Cummings, English miner, in whose kit, searched as he boarded the American liner St. Louis, were found two sticks of tunnelite (35 per cent dynamite), which he says he had forgotten he possessed. He is a loyal Britisher and says he was going over to fight for England.

THREE IN TEUTON CORPS TRACKED

Abraham Cummings, of Ferry Hill Village, Durham County, England. He told the police—and they believed him—that he had no evil intentions and that the explosive, which is 37 per cent dynamite, was harmless without a fuse or a detonating cap. He pointed to the absence of these necessities as proof of his innocence.

The discovery of the explosive was due to the care with which the luggage of all persons taking passage on all vessels leaving this port is searched. Two grips of Cummings' had been searched.

"The third grip is just like the others," said Cummings.

"Well, we'll search it just the same," said James Kennedy, one of the American Line baggage checkers.

Cummings will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Houghton Monday. The charge against him—purely technical in order to permit the authorities to charge him with the carrying of an explosive from Pittsburgh to this city without declaring that he was carrying it.

Those well informed with respect to the activities of the United States Secret Service and the agents of the Department of Justice in the running down of Teuton agents in this country, look forward to the indictment of a prominent German-American, who is known to the United States authorities as the "American spy."

It is said that it has been his duty to furnish the spies of the Central Powers with the wherewithal to do their work.

The name of this man is likely to be brought out when the case of Carl Buena, managing director of the Hamburg-American line, and other employees of this German steamship line, under indictment for technical violations of the customs regulations, is called next week. In reality these men are accused of secretly furnishing German commerce destroyers with supplies while cruising in the North and South Atlantic.

A new turn to the investigation of the German-Austrian agents was taken yesterday in the inquiry into the activities of various groups of men who have been posing as relief societies. These men have been holding balls, entertainments and raffles, ostensibly for the relief of widows and orphans and other dependents of soldiers and sailors who have been killed or wounded in fighting the Allies. The charge has been made that the money raised by these affairs has been used solely for supplying spies with money.

An interesting sidelight on the activity of the Teutonic propagandists was furnished yesterday by Milan Yestich, editor of the Serbian daily, in an interview with a representative of The Tribune.

"These agents of Germany and Austria-Hungary have stopped at nothing," said Mr. Yestich, the friend of Professor Michael I. Pupin, the Columbia professor and the Consul General of Serbia. "They even tried to corrupt Professor Pupin. This came about in this way: a little over a year ago, when the war first started, an educator prominent in the Hungarian University of Budapest, wrote a letter to Professor Pupin telling him that the delegate of Austria-Hungary were behind him to a man as their choice for the Nobel prize in 1914. This meant something like a sum of $50,000. Professor Pupin, however, backed saying that he could not agree to be their candidate, since he was neither an Austrian nor a Hungarian, but a Serb."

"The American people," continued Mr. Yestich, "will be surprised when they learn of all the activities of the Teuton agents. Explosions and incendiarism have been only a small part of their propaganda. Lying, deceit, misrepresentation have been their chief tools."

"I will cite you an example. Tomio Sargentich is one of the leading Serbs in this country. He is treasurer of one of our leading banks in this city. He has been telling him that the delegate of Austria-Hungary were behind him to a man as their choice for the Nobel prize in 1914. This meant something like a sum of $50,000. Professor Pupin, however, backed saying that he could not agree to be their candidate, since he was neither an Austrian nor a Hungarian, but a Serb."

"You can imagine his surprise when he picked up 'The New York Times' of November 4 containing a letter bearing his name expounding sentiments injurious to Serbia and Serbs generally, and helpful to the Teutons. This letter was written by one of the Teuton agents, who forged Mr. Sargentich's name to it."

"Now, there are three classes of agents of the central powers at work in this country. The first are the direct agents. These either actually do the work of incendiarism or hire others to do it. The second are the newspaper men of Austro-Hungarian or German birth, who are for the most part uneducated. Their work is cut out for them. An example of their work was that which followed the publication in 'The Times' of the forged Sargentich letter, in which these Teuton newspaper men said that no Serb should have anything to do with a man of the type of Sargentich, who would write such a letter as was published."

"The third type of agent is the spy ordinary. Besides spying in the literal sense, it is the duty of this type of propagandist to foment what trouble he can. With us Serbs his chief work just now is to try to disrupt our organizations, social, benevolent and patriotic. In a small degree they have been temporarily successful, but only temporarily only."

Mr. Yestich cited numbers of instances to support his charges.

Law Unused 100 Years to Trap Fay and Mates

Washington, Nov. 13.—Under a section of law that would permit indictments for conspiracy to commit murder, arson and other crimes carrying heavy penalties, indictments against Fay and his alleged fellow conspirators will be asked by the government, it was announced to-night by United States District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall, of New York. This announcement was made by Mr. Marshall after long conferences with Attorney General Gregory and Assistant Attorney General Warren at the Department of Justice, at which the advisability of asking additional indictments against Fay and Scholz was discussed.

"We have gone back to a law which has not been enforced for a hundred years," said Mr. Marshall, "and have decided to ask the Federal grand jury to bring indictments under that in addition to the already brought."

The law under which it was decided to-day to ask indictments is Section 11 of the Penal Code. The indictments which have already been brought against Fay and Scholz are under Section 12, while it was much easier to square the alleged crime of Fay and Scholz with the prohibitions of the law, the penalties were much lighter. Section 12 relates to attempts to injure ships of any nationality on the high seas.

"The fact that the conspiracy was to blow up all ships carrying munitions to the Allies," said Mr. Marshall, "is most significant. It is somewhat analogous to a case of men who arranged to hold up the first train that came along. If the first train should happen to be a mail train they could be held for conspiracy to hold up the mail. Applying this theory to the case against Fay and Scholz, if they conspired to blow up all ships carrying munitions to the Allies, then they conspired to blow up ships owned by Americans, which would bring them under the prohibitions of Section 11 of the Penal Code."

EVIDENCE ENOUGH TO EXPEL VON NUBER

Washington, Nov. 13.—Rumors that the withdrawal of Alexander Nuber, Austrian Consul General in New York, would shortly be asked by the State Department were met by the statement to-day that no action had been taken by the department. The charges made by Dr. Goricar, former Austrian Consul at San Francisco, have not yet been communicated officially to the department.

Officials of the State Department admit, however, that evidence already in their hands of improper activities on the part of Consul General Nuber is sufficient to demand his withdrawal. It is admitted also that if Dr. Goricar's allegations against Consul General Nuber are substantiated he will almost certainly be dismissed.

The Department of Justice received to-day from "The Providence Journal" a telegram affirming the authenticity of Dr. Goricar's testimony. The newspaper has been asked to furnish Dr. Goricar's address and agents of the department will be sent to take affidavits from him.
